Our Hotel closed for this season Monday. Quite a number of people were entertained here, besides a great many boarding houses were crowded all the summer.

The Mountains are now in their splendor, garbed as it were in coats of many colors.

Pine Grove Sunday School gave a nice picnic on Saturday last. The attendance was very large. Among the visitors were Messrs. Griffith and Joe Bell, of the Valley.

At least one hundred and twenty children were on the ground, whose ages did not exceed twelve years, the majority belonging in this neighborhood. It looks as if our school house could be made larger and the teacher given an assistant.

The people all, more or less, own their own property. Therefore these young children by and by will grow up to be citizens of this section. The taste of teaching so many small children gives very little show to older and more advanced scholars, besides the worry to the teachers. Our school will open here on September 30th.

Mrs. Sellhouse has in erection a two story stone house at the Top. Mr. Allen has his well machine at her place boring for water.

Mr. Joseph Hill, near Blumont, has sold his beautiful farm, together with household and farming utensils, to Mr. Silsby, of Maine, who is here now taking lessons of Mr. Hill in farming. Should he make as successful a farmer as Mr. Hill, he will be lucky if he did pay handsomely for the farm.

There are several cases of typhoid in the neighborhood, one being a case of typhoid. Earnest Dewar is right sick now. We will hope for the best with him as the fever has not reached a crisis.

Edward Kelley, a young man who the first of the season worked at Mr. Throckmorton's livery, and contracted typhoid fever and went to his father's home near Ball Alley, died Sunday, aged about nine years, making two cases that have proven fatal here this season.

Miss Lula Alder spent Friday night and Saturday with her cousins, Miss Justa Moreland and Mrs. R. D. Bennett, near Blumont.

Miss Bulah Elser is stopping a few days at the Top.

With this issue of the COURIER a new force of hands begin work in the office. Mr. T. Rice Crown, who has assisted his brother, Mr. John A. Crown in editing and managing the business of the paper, leaves Thursday for Augusta, Ga., where he has secured a position with the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co., the big fertilizer corporation of the South. Mr. Geo. E. Kercheval, another employee of the office, left Tuesday morning for Front Royal to take a course of studies at the Randolph-Macon Academy in preparation for a Theological course. Both of these young men have served the COURIER faithfully, and we join their friends here in wishing them happiness and prosperity in their new vocations. Messrs. Clarence Shackelford and Herbert Marks succeed these young men in the office, and we ask the forbearance of our readers for a while until they pick up some points of the "art preservative." The COURIER hereafter will be mailed in the postoffice Wednesday morning instead of Tuesday evening, at which time it has been sent out to its readers for years.

Mr. J. W. Barringer, who resigned sometime ago as station agent at the N. & W. Ry depot here in order to devote his time to his furniture store, has been replaced by Mr. Macomb, formerly employed at Riverside by the railroad company. Mr. Macomb is a pleasant gentleman, and we hope he will like his new home. Mr. Barringer has been agent here for many years and has made a good business representative of the railroad company. The duties of the office here are very onerous, and the latter's health did not permit him to continue to hold the place, besides he wished to devote his time to his new furniture store. Mr. Massie Shepherd who resigned his position as assistant to Mr. Barringer to accept a place with the railroad company at Pocahontas, has been succeeded by his brother, Rice Shepherd, who promises well to fill his brother's shoes in the same acceptable manner to his employer and the public.

Monday night a meeting of the citizens of Berryville was held in the courthouse to nominate candidates for the elective corporation offices.

The meeting was organized by electing John R. Crown chairman and J. E. Ogdon secretary. The object of meeting being stated by the chair, D. H. Jones was nominated for Mayor, J. W. Foley for recorder, and the councilmen as follows: Ward No. 1—H. W. Baker; Ward No. 2—P. J. Albeck; Ward No. 3—Conrad Kowalski; Ward No. 4—L. V. Stolle. The nominees of the meeting are present incumbents of the offices. The election will be held Thursday, the poles being open from sunrise to sunset.

Barringer's new Furniture Parlors are open for business with the finest line of Furniture ever shown in Berryville. Call and examine it. No trouble to show goods.

Mr. J. W. Barringer, as seen from ads. in this column, has opened his furniture store on Main street in the building on the Racket store lot, which he recently erected. A visit to the store showed a handsome line of furniture, and everything was arranged to show up with pretty effect. The opening of this business was deferred on account of railroad company's delay in accepting Mr. Barringer's resignation as agent here. Mr. Barringer says he intends to carry first-class goods to sell at living prices, and solicits the public to look at his goods, whether they wish to buy or not.

New Store, New Goods and Low Prices at Barringer's Furniture Parlors, next door to Racket Store.

The Berryville football team was organized last week for the coming season, and Percy Crown was elected captain, Arthur Melville manager, and Lewis Glover treasurer. The club received their new uniforms last week, which were purchased with the profits of the game last season.

The new furniture in the Berryville postoffice, consisting of finely finished oak boxes, etc., was set up last week, and the office with its new floor presents a handsome and city-like appearance. Postmaster McCormick is being warmly congratulated for the improvements he has made.

Dr. G. H. Oliver will not be in his office Saturday next.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Mrs. Mary Paul, who died at Harpersburg, Va., a few days ago, after a short illness, aged 85 years, was the last member of a large family, three having died in the last four months—Mrs. Amanda Dorsey, 81 years old, of Front Royal, died on Apr. 21, 1889; Mrs. Benjamin Morgan, of Berryville, mother of Mrs. Joseph H. Shepherd, of Richmond, died August 1, 1901, aged 85. They were all daughters of Clarke County, and were born and reared at Auburn, near Wickliffe Church, in that county. They were women of high culture and all married men of prominence in their day. Their father represented the county several times in the Legislature, as also did Col. Benj. Morgan, and Dr. Hanson Dorsey at one time represented Warren County. They were all women of strong Southern sentiment, and kept open house for Confederate soldiers during the war. They had been widows for years and died honored by all.

S. L. Palmbaum's store will be closed Sept. 23.

A dispatch from Winchester, dated Sept. 10th, says: A bold attempt at a daylight robbery, was made this afternoon on Main street, the busiest thoroughfare of Winchester.

A negro, named Samuel Butler, from Millwood, Va., walked into H. W. Clowe's jewelry store and asked to be shown some gold watches. He selected one and, placing it in his pocket, started for the door. Mr. Clowe intercepted him with a revolver and ordered him to replace the watch upon the 'showcase. He apparently started to do so, but instead he grabbed two more gold watches and dashed for the door. He was caught again by Mr. Clowe and held at the point of a revolver until the arrival of an officer, when he was placed under arrest.

MISS VIRGINIA M. WASHINGTON WILL RESUME HER SCHOOL ON MONDAY, SEPT. 23RD.

A typical day's cakewalk will be held in the Boom building Thursday night, Sept. 26th, at 8 o'clock. The committee in charge of the affair is headed by Thomas Simmons, Stephen Green and other well behaved and respected young colored men of this place. An admission of 15 and 10 cents will be charged at the door, the proceeds to go to a benevolent church society.

The ministers of all the churches in town have arranged to hold regular monthly meetings for conference on the practical questions which may arise in connection with general church work. They are also considering the advisability of holding a course of free lectures for the benefit of the public generally. It is hoped to make these lectures very popular and of a most edifying character.

The Berryville High School began its session last week, with an enrollment corresponding with that of last year. Still there is quite a number to be entered after the busy season at home is over. The work began with little friction and the classes, soon reorganized, were at the usual routine. The best work that the school has done is expected this season.

R. S. Bryarley's Hydraulic Cider Mill will be in operation every Wednesday and Saturday at Bryarley's Mill. Choice Corn Meal in stock always.

Mr. Charles H. Hunkamp, of Fredericksburg, well known here and a brother of Miss Hunkamp, who has been visiting the Misses Page and friends in Millwood, has purchased from Mrs. Jessie S. Little, "Boscobel," the beautiful and historic home of the Littles and Fitzhughs in Stafford county. The terms are $15,000.

There will be an all-day basket picnic at Minnie Wood Chapel next Saturday Sept. 21st. Services will be held in the morning at 11 o'clock, consisting of songs, recitations and addresses by Revs. Julian Broadbudd and Nelson P. Dame. All friends cordially invited to attend.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Lack of space this issue precludes our publishing the proceedings of a meeting held at the residence of Mr. H. B. Ward in this place, the object of which was to set on foot a movement looking to the organization of a Village Improvement society. The meeting was attended by a dozen citizens of the town, and a committee, consisting of Messrs. H. W. Baker, G. E. Taylor, J. W. Foley, J. W. Gaver, Rev. D. H. Scanlon, H. B. Ward, J. B. Neill, Ed. Cunningham, P. J. Affleck, J. H. Enders, S. F. Baughman, Jr. and J. R. Crown, were appointed to set the object of the association before the people and solicit their support and interest in same.

Sunday, Sept. 8th, the congregation of the Marvin Methodist Church South was favored with a visit from Mrs. M. L. Welles, of Chattanooga, Tenn., who delivered a telling lecture on the evils of the liquor traffic and the work of the W. C. T. U. Beautiful recitations by Miss Ruth Cunningham and her brother, Kenneth, added interest to the occasion. Mrs. Wells organized a Union of thirty members. Mrs. Melville, the wife of the pastor, who was present and introduced Mrs. Wells, was much gratified by the success of her efforts.

Rev. Mr. Ritter, son of Millwood's esteemed merchant, Mr. R. H. Ritter, preached at the Baptist Church last Sunday morning. His sermon was a strong and forcible discourse and was much enjoyed by the congregation. Mr. Ritter gives much promise for a brilliant career in the pulpit. He leaves his father's home in Millwood this week to return to Richmond College to continue his studies.

A special service will be held in the M. E. Church South Sunday evening, Sept. 22, at 7:30 o'clock, by the Sunday School missionary society. An interesting program will be rendered. A talk on Korea by the pastor will be among the features of the service. The collection to be taken up will be used for missionary work. A service similar to this will be held every fourth Sunday evening of each month.

Rev. Julian Broadbudd will preach at Pine Grove schoolhouse next Sunday evening at 3 o'clock.

By the consolidation of the Winchester Telephone Company with the Maryland Telephone Company, which operates in Washington county and other portions of Western Maryland, the lines operated in the lower Shenandoah Valley by the former company pass into new hands. The capital stock of the Winchester Company was, this week, transferred to a syndicate of Hanover, Pa., capitalists already in possession of the Maryland corporation. What will be the ultimate effect of consolidation is difficult now even to conjecture, but the new owners promise an improved service. It is said that money has already been appropriated for a copper metallic circuit from Martinsburg and Shepherdstown to Hagerstown, thence to Westminster, where it connects with the Baltimore wires, thus giving long service between Valley of Virginia and Baltimore. P. D. Teabault has been retained as superintendent, and is instructed to push the improvements at once and to extend the lines to a number of points not now covered.

Rev. Syd. Ferguson To Speak In Berryville.

Rev. Syd. Ferguson, the fighting "parson" of Mosby's gallant band of rangers, and one of the most eloquent orators in the Methodist pulpit, will address the J. E. B. Stuart Camp, C. V., and the public generally Tuesday night, Sept. 24th, in Winston Hall. Everybody is invited to be present.

The Camps of Veterans and Sons are ordered by their commanders to appear in full uniform in honor of their distinguished guest.

Union Services.

At a conference of the ministers of the town, it was determined to hold union services at 11 o'clock Thursday morning in Grace Episcopal Church in respect to the memory and burial of Wm. McKinley the martyred ruler of our nation, in accordance with the proclamation of President Roosevelt. All persons, wishing to show a tribute of respect to the late President, are asked to attend said services. It is hoped that business in Berryville will be suspended at the hour named as a mark of respect to the memory of this good Christian man.

Mr. and Mrs. Butler Entertain

"Mr. and Mrs. Butler at Home Friday evening, Sept. thirteenth, from eight to ten, Annefield, to meet the guest of Pagebrook."

So ran the invitation, and so went more invitations many a furlong further than the house party at Pagebrook.

Since their home making within these borders, Mr. and Mrs. Butler, by their gracious and genuine personality, have cemented a bond of union between themselves and our people.

At her reception on Friday evening Mrs. Butler wore the ermine of her ancient homestead, with all the charming modesty and gentle dignity that the brilliant assemblage could desire, while her personal pulchritude was at once typified in the glad greetings she extended to each and every one of her guests.

Mr. Butler too gave the right hand of true fellowship, continuously looking after the welfare of all the happy bearded folk gathered within his regal walls.

The whole scene was very effective—massive furniture and handsome equipments, the elaborate hand carving in the wood work, together with the rich and varied colorings of the high pitched rooms, made Annefield unique and the peer of any homestead in the realms of Virginia.

Among the guests who has won golden opinions here, was Mrs. Barns, of St. Louis, a sister of the hostess, and we barter our two canine celebrities—Moses and Aaron—that not one atom of the shining metal was lost that night.

Another sister of Mrs. Butler, Mrs. West, was present. We should have liked to have been presented, but forsooth, as we saw it, a cordon of young swains embowered the way, and we were abashed to break through so strong a line of guardship.

Mrs. R. Powell handled the coffee urn with tempting fervency; while Miss Atkinson, of Richmond, and Miss Agnes and Miss Mary Page by bewitcheries kept the punch bowl in a billowy condition. Mrs. O'Fallon and Mrs. Hugh Nelson were in office too, amid a pyramid of dainties, but having tomorrow in sweet remembrance we were chary of the soft glances of these fair ladies.

Among the throng we observed Mr. and Mrs. Mullikin, Mrs. Wm. F. Randolph, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Thomas N. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. M. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Page, Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Jones, Miss Lucy Atkinson, Miss Gretta McCormick, Miss Rosalie McCormick, Miss Hunkamp, Miss Fannie Burwell, Miss Nellie Page, Miss Susan Page, Miss Rosa Woolfolk, Miss Marie Woolfolk, Miss Brown, Miss Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Byrd, Dr. John Burwell, Miss Mary W. Burwell, Miss Mary Lee, Miss Dorothy Henry, Miss Adeline Nelson, Messrs. Heath, Gaik, George H. Burwell, Hugh M. Nelson, R. Powell Page, Capt. Wm. P. Carter, Frank Renshaw, Robert Renshaw.

The Front Royal brass band gave charming music, and the dancers of the beautiful German were:

Mrs. West and Mr. Grymes Randolph, Mrs. Butler and Mr. Mullikin, Mrs. Mullikin and Mr. Butler, West and Miss Atkinson, Mr. West of St. Louis and Miss George Claiborne, Miss Berta Atkinson and Dr. Robert Page, Miss Knapp and Mr. Wiggins, Miss Mary Carter Randolph and Mr. Cabell Moore, Miss Mary Page and Mr. Willie Meade, Miss Agnes Page, Miss Dorothy Henry, Miss Adeline Nelson, Messrs. Heath, Gaik, George H. Burwell, Hugh M. Nelson, R. Powell Page, Capt. Wm. P. Carter, Frank Renshaw, Robert Renshaw.

All things end, saith the wise man, and so the tardy revellers drew away one by one, happier for the happy evening spent. Then the cock on the hill over the stream crew out lustily his morning greetings; the lights of Annefield went out, and the big old bolt on the big old front door shot out with the same old ring, that we have often heard in the long years that are gone.
